

The Difficulty

Just before birth, the Creator summons each spirit for a final word:

I am sending you to Earth for your growth and fulfillment as a Spiritual Being. You will be dependent for awhile on parents and others to sustain your life and teach you their ways. You will later become one who sustains and nurtures other newcomers and in so doing have an opportunity to give back what has been given you.

Your humanity will involve choices that will lead to some very personal Difficulty. You will struggle with it. You may become discouraged, disillusioned, resentful! At times you may wonder whether I have forsaken you and whether this Difficulty was meant for your destruction.

Take the Difficulty and learn the lessons of suffering and grace, for in them you will find a Pathway back to Me.

Go now, down to Earth and into your forgetfulness. Although you will not see Me as we see each other now, I will always be with you, always accepting you, always loving you, always looking anxiously for your Return.
